1. Use the command "python ML.py" to run the code.
2. The number showed on the terminal is the average number of updates before the algorithm halts.
3. The histogram shows the number of updates (x axis) versus the frequency of the number (y axis).